49th Annual Arizona Rural Health Conference

The Arizona Center for Rural Health (AzCRH) core mission is to improve the health and wellness of Arizona's rural and underserved populations.

For the past 48 years the Arizona Center for Rural Health has hosted the Annual Arizona Rural Health Conference, making it one of the longest continually running rural health conference in the United States. The Arizona Rural Health Conference provides an environment for networking and dissemination of pertinent information among professionals and community members from rural Arizona and the Southwest.

A statewide planning committee advises on the theme, presentations, presenters and tracks for the conference. The conference engages stakeholders, experts, participants and presenters sharing their interest in rural issues, building and strengthening partnerships and discussing best practices, projects and programs in a variety of breakout tracks, workshops, presentations, general sessions, exhibits and pre- and post-conference sessions. Exhibitors, presenters and participants play important roles in this event and have opportunities to show how their organizations, services, products and innovations can enhance and advance the health of rural populations. The record breaking June 2022 48th Annual Arizona Rural Health Conference had more than 300 attendees, 80% of whom attended in person and the remainder virtually.
